GLOBAL LEADERS IN INTEGRATED SECURITY & FIRE PROTECTION

Online banking fraud rocketed by almost 50% last year, according to Financial Fraud Action UK (FFA UK) losses from these frauds rose from £40.9 million in 2013 to £60.4 million in 2014.

TFS Group are one of a few companies globally who offer complete Financial Trading Solution

In the heavily regulated world of financial trading, knowing what is being said — and by whom — is critical for ensuring compliance. But relying on random sampling to detect potential issues can be risky. You need a way to surface suspicious conversations from all the interactions you record.

With full analytics and real time recording for both video and audio, which includes word recognition, combined with Video packets of data this solution can be invaluable and non-intrusive.

Speech Analytics for Financial Trading is an enterprise solution for trade surveillance that can analyse recorded phone calls to reveal suspicious or unusual conversations, facilitating quick investigation. This powerful, scalable solution can help your organization proactively enforce regulations and compliance policies, reduce risk, and protect its reputation.

Our Speech Analytics for Financial Trading can search, process, analyse, and report on 100 percent of recorded calls, it can help expedite investigations while eliminating the need for costly, time-consuming manual sampling and transcriptions. Your compliance officers and analysts can gain faster, deeper insight into trading room conversations and quickly find the ones that can put your organisation at risk.

Key Benefits

Speech Analytics for Financial Trading is a trade surveillance solution that can analyse 100 percent of trader calls and surface those containing suspicious words or phrases.

Speech Analytics for Financial Trading can index and categorise audio recordings, enabling you to search for an unlimited number of terms by keyword, phrase, or business category. Guided search capabilities resemble those used by popular Internet search engines, helping compliance officers find relevant calls quickly — a benefit for complying with requests from regulators.

You can easily search and retrieve calls according to structured data and context-based filters, while the solution can automatically provide options for more focused filtering, based on the context of the searched terms. Better still, Speech Analytics for Financial Trading can process, retain, and mine the entire content of calls, not just the keywords and phrases you've specified. It can automatically analyse and categorize calls based on how speakers express themselves, and can surface critical information or anomalies that you might not otherwise know to look for, such as references to unusual or inappropriate actions or to confidential information. This automated discovery capability can provide you with the opportunity to correct compliance or service issues before they escalate.

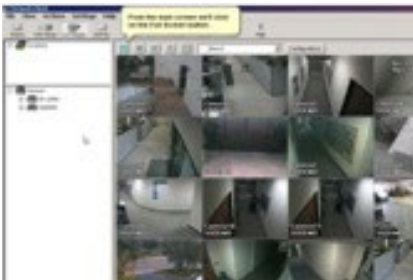

Helps reduce operational and reputational risk by analysing all calls and quickly surfacing those containing suspicious words and phrases.

Helps trading firms spot and correct compliance and policy breaches before they escalate.

Helps reduce the cost, time, and resources required for trade surveillance, audits, and detecting fraudulent activities.

Helps expedite investigations by external regulators by providing a solution for addressing compliance with regulations and adherence to prescribed practices.
